Synopsis

If you have an important reason â “ perhaps known only to yourself â “ to get out of jury duty, and you don't want to take the chance that you will be forced to use up your time for a ridiculous stipend of around $20 per day, this book is for you. Jurors are the last hope of freedom from a government gone. Only a jury can keep fellow citizens from the wrath of government prosecutors whose main objective is to get as many convictions as possible â “ by any means necessary. Whenever you are requested to serve jury duty you should do so to the best of your ability. However â “ sometimes you really need to get out of jury duty. Is your only daughter being married on the other side of the country? Are you the only care provider for your aged grandmother? Do you have a phobia that would be excess or baited by serving jury duty? Are you in physical pain and do not wish to sit for hours at a time? Do you have religious beliefs or other personal reasons that you do not want to be on a jury? There are many valid reasons that a citizen would want to avoid jury duty. Unfortunately, relying on the judge to excuse you for what you consider to be important and important issue be effective only part if the judge is in a good mood. Never fear! The information contained in this small book can get you out of jury duty every single time without you embarrassing yourself by stating something false to the judge which eventually may catch up with you and cause you legal or employment problems. It works every time! An old man I knew told the judge that he would be glad to sit on a jury provided he could take a bathroom break about every 15 minutes due to his incontinence. He was excused immediately. The lady who took care of her aged grandmother was told to get a babysitter and report for jury duty. The old man did not suffer from incontinence and was taking quite a risk by lying to the court. After you read this book you will be able to get out of jury duty every single time that you are requested. I started this book in 1994 and have been updating it ever since. The previous "non-Kindle" addition was about 60 pages with an extensive table of contents and index. I have removed any superfluous information and distilled the essence to make this an easy reading book which would now consist of approximately 30 pages in an 8.5 x 11" format book. It has been very difficult to condense this information, but I know that it is very difficult for people to find time to read a whole book. You may wonder why on earth I would charge $3.99 for such a relatively small book. The work is in the distillation. Of course you can feel free to serve Jury Duty and be paid $10 to $20 (depending upon your location) for a whole day's work. Did I mention that this works every time?

Customer Reviews

The book is strong in the points it makes in using the knowledge of Fully Informed Jury Association (FIJA) to attempt to get out of jury duty. However, the book is weak in other excuses. If one wants to use an excuse to get out of jury duty other than the knowledge of FIJA, the book is deficient.

O.K. First off sorry about the two stars. Secondly, this approach will probably work - perhaps even as described. However, I really don't want to play the fool. As down to earth and real as it is, the approach has a certain grittiness to it. Perhaps this is a pamphlet?
